

IN THE ABSTRACT:

Please amend the abstract as shown below:

The present invention provides colored iridescent film comprising a core of substantially parallel layers ~~wherein alternate of the layers comprise a first polymer and the remaining layers comprise a second polymer~~ comprising alternating layers of a first polymer and a second polymer, and at least one of the layers contains an organic pigment. The present colored iridescent film may advantageously be used in decorative applications such as glitter.